was the principal speaker.

This amount, it is further announced, when added to the gifts made through the branch during the preceding winter, brings the total contributed in the National Capital to more than $6,000.

The finance committee of the national organization, consisting of Frank A. Vanderlip, Otto H. Kahn, Edmund L. Baylies and George A. Kessler, has recently voted to cable its French committee a guarantee of 200,000 francs annually for five years, and has expressed the confident hope that this sum may be enlarged and, also the time limit extended. Mr. Kessler has offered his residence in Paris as a temporary headquarters for the French end of the fund.

Ship Board Chief Gives Problem In 'Rithmetic

N these war times, especially because the country is still in a "twilight zone" of uncer-tainty as to news which may be published, owing to the lack of legal censorship machinery, cabinet officials and other men in public life are much given to making cryptic replies to questions by newspaper men, else, apparently, they tell all they know and then they say: "But, don't publish a word about it." Which makes life hard for the newspaper men. But group of correspondents learned the fact-for publication, toothat Congress may grant the federal shipping board $150,-000,000 instead of the $50,000,-000 originally appropriated for the board in the following

They asked Chairman Denman what per cent of the $50,-000,000 the board proposes to use for Col. (joethals' wooden ships. He replied: "Oh, about 300 per cent."

The administration's program for buildng a vast fleet of wooden cargo ships to ransport supplies to the allies and thus defeat the German submarine campaign will be put under way tomorrow, when the shipping board will form a fifty-million-dollar corporation to build and oper-

The corporation will be organized under he laws of the District of Columbia, and its entire stock will be held by the shipping board. In legislation to be introluced in Congress early in the week the board will ask authority to increase the stock in the future if needed to as much. perhaps, as $225,000,000. For the present the $50,000,000 will suffice.

Standardized Plan Adopted.

Private shipyards will construct the hips on a standardized plan adopted by the shipping board on a basis in most instances of 10 per cent profit. Some contracts will be let for specified sums. The board probably will finance some

The law creating the shipping board provides for a corporation the majority of the stock of which must be held by the board. Its directors will be employes of the board, who will elect their own officers. Gen. Goethals probably will be elected general manager of the corporation and Mr. Eustace, who is an employe of the board, receiving a salary of $1 a year, and Mr. Clark, directors.

To Take Over Seized Ships.

Why He Was Chosen.

Gen. Goethals was chosen to head the work, it was explained last night, for three reasons-his capacity, his German descent and as a testimonial to the loyalty of American citizens of Teutonic extraction, and because he is considered the one man in the United States most offensive to Germany. Germany, it has been said, has never forgiven the man who constructed the canal when German experts said it could not be accomplished. In their efforts to persuade Gen.

In their efforts to persuade Gen. Goethals to take charge of building the ships, it was pointed out that he probably would spend before the war was over as much or more than was expended in building the canal.

official circles are anxious to prove to the United States, which is about to enter for the first time into financial relations with Italy, the strength of the Italian budget. From an official statement it appears that only 15,500,000,000 francs in war debts have been con tracted, while the new taxes available for the ensuing nine months of the present fiscal year will amount to 900,-000,000 francs more than during the former year.

It is expected that the surplus this year will be 1,200,000,000 francs. Thus, after paying interest on the present debts at 5 per cent, a large margin will exist for the payment of interest on ken over by the government the declaration of war undoubtedly will be put under the corporation, as will the Austrian ships now in custody of the United States. The general opinion is that the German and Austrian owners will be paid for their used during the war and for the ships themselves if they are lost or are retained. The story of how the wooden shipbuilding plan grew from an idea conceived simultaneously by two mining engineers, until it has taken a place in the forefront of America's war policy reveals that Yankee inventive genius and ingenuity were as ready to meet the present emergency as at any time of national stress in the past.

After Mr. Eustace and Mr. Clark has will be put under the corporation, as any time of national stress in the past.

After Mr. Eustace and Mr. Clark had been called to Washington by Chairman Denham of the shipping board, and the board decided to take up the plan, Mr. Eustace decided to interest Gen. Goethals, and went to place the situation before him. The canal builder immediately seized on the plan as the one way by which the United States could do most to aid the allies in defeating Germany. Then Gen. Goethals was told the board wished him to take charge of the work. Reluctant at first to leave his post in New Jersey, the general finally was convinced the nation needed him.
